MS. FREDRICK

We the class of 2014, dedicate our yearbook to you Ms. Fredrick in appreciation of your years of dedication, superior teaching qualities and commitment to Wakefield High School.

Ms. Fredrick started at WHS in the fall of 1972 after graduating from the University of Michigan with a degree in history. She went on to get her masters degree in education from Simmons College.

Her in depth knowledge from traveling to thirty five countries and living in Tokyo during a 3 year sabbatical led to her creating the "Asian Studies" elective, which was transformed to "Cultural Studies" at Wakefield High School.

Ms. Fredrick's enthusiasm for learning and passion for teaching inspired students to think for themselves, express their own ideas and be independent learners. She set the bar high for all of her students, encouraging them to challenge their limitations and live their dreams.

Wakefield High School students who were lucky enough to have her as a teacher will be forever grateful for the knowledge and confidence she helped them acquire.

Ms Fredrick plans to spend her retirement traveling with her husband.

In Memory Of

Mike Angelo

The class of 2014 yearbook is in memory of Mike Angelo. Not only did Mr. Angelo touch most of our lives through his photography with the Wakefield Daily Item, but he was a friend. He was at every sporting event, every school event, and captured every breath taking moment. His care and devotion to Wakfield will be greatly missed and always remembered.

Senior year is for the tears. Facing the fears. Loudening the cheers. You find out how close you are to some.
And how far away you are from others. You'll have your lasts and get ready for the firsts. Then look back on it and remember it forever

Dear Class of 2014,

Your first day of school (a memorable one, indeed!) seems such a short time ago. I am so proud of how you have grown, academically and socially, and the leadership, talent, kindness, and generosity you have brought to our school community. We will miss you dearly. It is my sincere hope that you have enjoyed many wonderful memories and that we have prepared you well for your life journey beyond graduation. Explore the world with great enthusiasm and share your best self with others. WHS will always be here for you when your journey takes you home.

With love and respect,

Dr. Kimberly J. Smith
Principal
Wakefield Memorial High School

YOU KNOW YOU'RE A WHS STUDENT WHEN...

There is a hole in the ceiling in every hallway

The spring dodgeball and volleyball tournaments draw a bigger crowd than track meets

There is always artwork hanging up

During the week of Fright Night, all of downstairs smells like pumpkins

Your list of friends includes Swiss and Italian students

The Red Sea isn't just a body of water

Half of your grade is in National Honors Society

You can hear Mrs. Schilling's laugh from down the hall and around the corner

You can never hear if you were just called down to the office or not

You spend your first half of senior year in the guidance department

You cannot remember which math teacher has what C name

The transformer gets struck by lightning the first day of freshman year

The crowds at sports games are just as entertaining as the sport

You don't have to know how to ski to go on the ski trips

The track kids run through the halls instead of outside

You miss the old cafe cookies

No one actually looks at these signs

The freshman are looking for the pool on the fourth floor

You see posters of not so current school events plastered everywhere

Getting out of the senior lot takes forever

You're not a music kid so you're scared of the band hall

Everyone has a Camelbak

It's a great day to be a Wakefield Warrior

Freshmen get the good lockers

Senior Show is more important than sleep

There are always Chemistry posters up

powderpuff 2014

The game started off with a touchdown from Junior Nikki Galli within in the first minute. The seniors tied the game and they went into overtime. The seniors pulled out a miraculous win with a touchdown pass from Krisitie McNall caught by Gabby Ruth. It was a tense game and both teams played great. The final Score: Seniors: 12, Juniors: 6 experiences of your journey. You can achieve whatever goals you set for yourself so aim high, be fearless, stay positive, and enjoy! Much love and support, Mom, Dad, Emily and Benjamin

Allison Spivack

Allison,
You have brightened our lives in so many ways. You have always put the needs of others before your own interests.
Your thirst for knowledge as well as your desire to lend a helping hand will surely get you far. No one can climb a rope as easily as you. May you continue to have the strength to climb the ladder of success to a rewarding career and a life full of love and happiness.

Love,
Mummy, Daddy, Rebecca and Kiwi.

Andrew Gerace

Andrew,

We are so proud of you, and know you will move mountains!

Love,
